What do the following books have in common: The Hate U Give, Thirteen Reasons Why, To Kill a Mockingbird, and The Absolutely True Diary of a Part-Time Indian? They are all on the American Library Association's Office of Intellectual Freedom's top 10 banned or challenged books of 2018. Each year, the ALA encourages people to embrace our freedom to read by celebrating Banned Books week. This year's theme is "Banning Books Silences Stories". Come and visit the library to check the banned books display from now until Friday to speak out for banned books.

On Friday during recess and lunch the library will be hosting a banned books breakout. If you like competition, puzzles, and escape rooms, you won't want to miss this. Get together a group of 5 people and sign up with Mrs. Nakata. We only have enough supplies for 6 groups, so first come, first served. The winning team will receive a prize and bragging rights. Happy reading!
