Please support Kokoro Yamazaki as she is running for the crown of the 67th Chrysanthemum Festival, a Japanese cultural event that raises funds for scholarships and the historical preservation programs of the sponsor, Maui's Sons and Daughters of the Nisei Veterans. The Chrysanthemum Ball and Festival have been a major source of funding for annual scholarships. The Maui AJA Veterans provided hundreds of scholarships over the years. The Sons and Daughters pledged to use its share to continue the tradition of providing scholarships to worthy Maui high school graduates, and it honors the veterans group by retaining its name in the financial aid effort. Funds are distributed through the Maui's Sons and Daughters of the Nisei Veterans / Maui AJA Veterans Scholarship Program. The queen of the festival is the contestant who raises the most money through ticket sales so we need your help! For tickets, please see Kokoro. Arigatou!
